TEAMWORK & LEADING HIGH-PERFORMANCE TEAMS

The 5 Disciplines of Today's Most Effective Work Groups

THE DILEMMA: 96% of executives cite poor collaboration as the main source of workplace failures. How can we lead teams to improved performance given the volatility and challenges teams face today:

- Increased speed of change
- Need to work more cross-functionally
- Emergence of more remote, global & gig workers
- Rise of the Millennials & Gen Z

THE RESEARCH: Based on an 850,000-person study of today's most profitable, innovative work teams, New York Times bestselling author Chester Elton introduces the new science of teamwork.

"Folks throughout our organization are still raving about Chester's session. Not only was he entertaining, but he put time into getting it right and the content really resonated. That says a lot for such a quiet and cynical crowd."

Lisa Stornaielo, Vice President Leadership Development, Fidelity

THE RESULT: Chester's research shows a set of disciplines makes the biggest difference. He helps manage generational differences, speed productivity, inspire innovation and robust debate, and create true alignment around customers.

THE AUDIENCE: Designed for audiences of all levels—from individual contributors to CEOs—Chester Elton has presented on teamwork to corporate audiences and conferences worldwide.
